

Know Your Risks

A systems-based approach to quality assurance

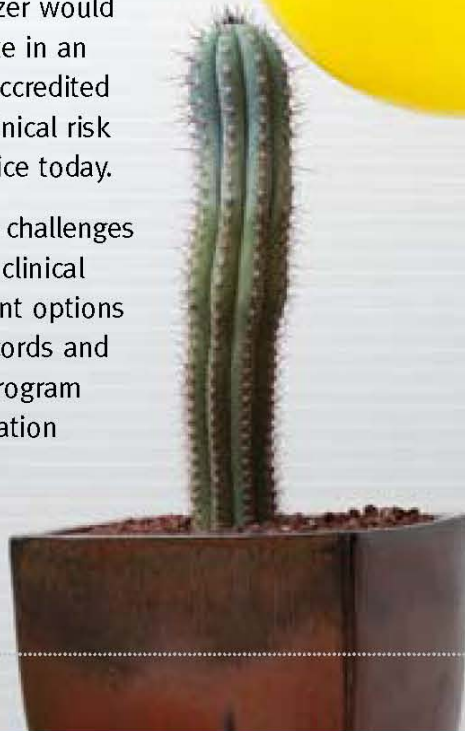

RACGP QA&CPD program

TOTAL POINTS 4 (Category 2)

Boehringer Ingelheim and Pfizer would like to invite you to participate in an interactive, RACGP QA&CPD accredited educational meeting about clinical risk management in general practice today.

This meeting will address the challenges faced by GPs when making a clinical diagnosis, discussing treatment options with patients, maintaining records and much more. The aim of the program is to provide GPs with information to help improve clinical risk management by employing best practices and the quality use of medicines.

Learning Objectives

- To gain a better understanding of the professional and patient risk associated with missed and delayed diagnosis of conditions
- To improve the diagnosis of conditions through available resources
- To develop a better understanding of issues involved in communicating with patients in difficult situations
- To increase awareness of quality assurance activities to improve patient care to help reduce the risk of professional and patient adverse outcomes
